** EXTERNAL EMAIL MESSAGE ****

Jared and Rachel,

As you know, Judge Hughes granted a Preliminary Injunction against Array Technologies, Inc.'s employee Julio Garza holding that NOV has a substantial likelihood of success on the merits in its case against Mr. Garza. Judge Hughes also held that NOV showed it potentially sustained damages based on Garza's testimony that he plugged two USB devices into an Array Technologies issued laptop.

At the same time, Judge Hughes entered an Order on Inspection of Garza's devices. Included therein, Judge Hughes ordered that Array Technologies "search the file names and produce a list to Varco." It has now been more than 19 days and Array Technologies still has not produced a list to NOV.

Please provide to NOV a list of all files Array Technologies located using the file list the Court attached as Exhibit C to Dkt. 62 by no later than 5:00 PM on Monday, August 29, 2022. For your convenience, I've attached the file list Dkt. 62-3.

If Array Technologies does not intend to comply with the Court's order, please let me know so we can proceed accordingly.

Respectfully,

Josh Redelman
